Dear Honorable Judge Louis,

I'm writing to you with the help of another in regard to the controversial matter that has come before you in good faith asking that you will please consider my humble approach in offering this much needed apology to you and your court. In honesty, Judge, I suffer from ADD and a learning disability which deprives me of truly comprehending and understanding many things and situations. My learning disability was discovered during my childhood years and prevents me from reading, spelling correctly, and comprehending causing my dependance on the knowledge and advice of others. True in fact, I am ignorant of judicial proceedings, but I am aware of what's right and wrong. I now know what was done was wrong and accept the consequences of my ignorance and choices. I have no doubt that you are a person of reason, and I humbly ask for your forgiveness and plead for your mercy.

Sincerely,

Andre Lorquet
